

Julia Breitenöder

Ida Helps the Easter Bunny

four-colour illustrated by Carola Sieverding

Recommended Age: 2+

Board Book

Board book, 20 Pages

17,5 x 17,5 x 1,1 cm

€ 8,95 (D)

ISBN 978-3-7348-1521-8

25 January 2016

Further information here

The little donkey Ida is a true artist. With her tail tuft, she paints the most beautiful patterns on the walls of the barn. When Ida can't find any eggs at Easter, she goes looking for the Easter bunny – and is lucky enough to discover him! However, he's in a big mess: His alarm clock didn't ring so he hasn't painted all the eggs yet! There's no time to lose! Ida swings her tail and helps the Easter bunny to colour the remaining eggs. Easter is saved!

Lizenzen/Rights | rights@magellanverlag.de | Tel.: +49 (0)951 16098 410

Magellan GmbH & Co. KG | Laubanger 8 | 96052 Bamberg

www.magellanverlag.de

Creative People:

Author: Julia Breitenöder, born in 1972 in Bonn, lives in Frankfurt am Main with her family. After studying special pedagogy, being an au-pair in Cairo and flying around the world as a stewardess, she's now doing what she always wanted to do: writing stories.

Illustrator: Carola Sieverding was born in the Oldenburger Münsterland in 1989. She now lives in Münster with her boyfriend and her small dog. After graduating with a degree in design, she has been working as a freelance illustrator. She loves the sea, travelling and hiking – and of course creating extraordinary children's books.

