Turkey

A merry story in rhyme about gratitude and solidarity with an adorable and crafty protagonist.

The little dingo Ringo is somewhat of a sly dog: He always gets himself in trouble and the other animals have to come to his rescue. For a while, that works out rather well for Ringo, but since he never thanks them for their help, the other animals just stop coming when he calls. Now Ringo has to come clean if he doesn't want his biggest fear of being all alone to become his reality. Will the animals reconcile?

Creative People:

Author: Yvonne Hergane, born in 1968, studied German, English, and Book Science in Augsburg and Munich. Since the mid-1990s, she has been working as an author and literary translator and was nominated for the German Children's Literature Award in 2012. Her favourites are picture books – playing with words, sounds, and rhymes is her way of making music. After several smaller and greater geographical hops, she currently lives with her family near the North Sea.

Illustrator: Paul Nicholls is a freelance artist, who has created illustrations for a great number of titles. In 2000, he graduated from North Wales School of art and design with a Bachelor of Arts Degree with Honours. He lives at the coast of Mid Wales, where he shares a studio with his partner and fellow illustrator Melanie Mitchell.
