A beautifully illustrated story of friendship overcoming obstacles with factual information about the tides.

Island rat Ebby lives on an island in the middle of the sea. Ebby loves the roar of the storms, the sandy dunes, and his old lighthouse. Rabbit captain Flo also lives on an island in the middle of the sea. Flo loves the salty air, his fishing cottage, and the tall green dyke. The only thing they are missing is a friend to share their little paradises with. When they discover each other across the water, they are overjoyed. Now they only have to figure out how to cross the sea to reach each other

Creative People:

Author: Kristina Scharmacher-Schreiber studied German in Münster and Bergamo and afterwards worked for big opera houses for many years. Since 2016, she has been working as an author and translator and has published a number of children's books. For her nonfiction works, she has received a number of awards. When she's not working on a new book, she enjoys spending her time at her favourite place, a small island amidst the rough North Sea.

Illustrator: Caroline Opheys graduated in communication design and worked for different advertising agencies afterwards, until she fell in love with illustration. While drawing, she enjoys listening to music or a podcast and looks for inspiration in nature or at a café. She lives in Düsseldorf.
