Creative People:

Author: Before she started writing novels for young adults, Katrin Zipse's first love was the spoken word: She has worked for several radio stations for more than twenty years. In her spare time, she likes to travel France with her family and Berta, their dog.

Illustrator: Tina Schulte, born in 1974, studied visual communication in Münster and works as a freelance illustrator for a number of children's publishers. She loves to draw all creatures great and small, no matter whether they purr, bellow, neigh, quack, moo or baa – to the great delight of her little daughter who'd love to own a zoo.
