

Marie Braner
The Glasshouse Secret

Marie Braner

Recommended Age: 9+

Children's

Hardcover, 224 Pages

15,3 x 21,5 x 2,5 cm

€ 15,00 (D)

ISBN 978-3-7348-4118-7

18 January 2022

Further information here

A well-kept family secret inciting an exciting treasure hunt full of compelling riddles and atmospheric settings.

With her mum's unrelenting efforts to radically clear out the house and antique shop of her late favourite great aunt, Rosa has her work cut out for her trying to save as many beloved memorabilia as she can manage. One day, she stumbles upon a mysterious pouch with lettered glass pieces her aunt hid away for her. The solution to the riddle sends her, her best friend Sami, and little monkey Uma on an exciting treasure hunt through town. But they are not the only ones looking for Adele's secret inheritance ...

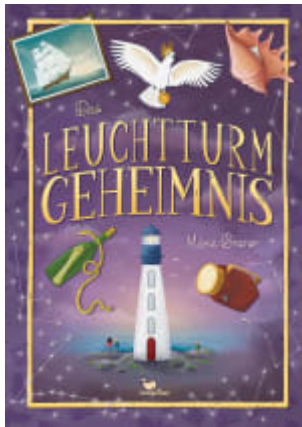

Creative People:

Author & Illustrator: Marie Braner studied illustration in Münster and has been drawing children's books ever since. In her spare time, she roams through nature with her dog Momo and looks for inspiration for adventure stories and fantastical tales. At home, she puts them on paper, preferably accompanied by coffee, biscuits, and a good audio book.

Further Titles:

Das Leuchtturm-Geheimnis

